Our school is very unique in many ways. One way is that we offer a “pay as you go” system for our classes. We do not require students to sign up for a specific number of classes. We understand that things come up and class may be missed sometimes. Although the students’ program is most beneficial to them if they attend every week, if they must miss a class we ask that you call and let us know and we will look forward to seeing you next time. We conduct our classes so that the student will feel comfortable jumping right back in if they have missed class. This is just one of many ways that we strive to offer our students a balance of the best training in their martial art studies while maintaining a fun, accepting and positive experience to enrich their lives and embrace their individual strengths.
